Smokin long black cadillac, engines windin down
Em C
Parked it up on the sidewalk like he owned the whole damn town
G D
I'd hear him talkin to some chick
G C
through a thick ghost of smoke
G D
And a thicker haze of southern comfort and coke
G D
He'd say girl your hotter than the hinges hangin off the gates of hell
Em C
Don't be afraid to turn to me babe if a he don't treat you well
G D G C
And by he he meant me so I laughed and I shook his hand
G D
He'd laugh a little bit louder as he'd yell up at the band

Chorus:

G D
Play a train song, pour me one more round
Em C
Make em leave my boots on when they lay me into the ground
G D G C
I am a run away locomotive out of my one track mind
G D
And I'm lookin for any kinda trouble that I can find

I got this old black leather jacket, got this pack of marlbuero reds

I got this stash here in my pocket, got my own thoughts in my head

I got to run until I got walk or until i got to crawl

This moment that I'm in right now and nothin else at all

Repeat Chorus

By the television's blizzard lights we looked around his place

We found him cold there on the sofa a little smile across his face

And though I tried with all my sadness somehow,

I just could not weep

For a man who looked to me like he died laughin in his sleep

Singin a train song, drinkin one last round

We made em leave his boots on the day they laid him down

He was a runaway locomotive out of his one track mind
